Green Mountain Builders has just announced the completion of a luxury remodel in the award-winning community of Bonita Bay, in Bonita Springs, Florida. Built in 1989, this lovely home was transformed by Green Mountain into a completely unique space. Walls were removed, bathing the entire home with natural light. Natural light is said to be the number one feature people look for when buying a family home. Exposure to daylight has been linked to improvements in our well being and mood; and in the home, natural light can make a room lighter and brighter and give the feeling of more space.

Many estate homes within Bonita Bay that have now aged twenty-five years are going through the remodeling and makeover process — updating both indoor and outdoor spaces. The remodels typically open up interior spaces, require new and updated kitchens, living and dining spaces, plus bedrooms and bathrooms are upgraded to bring homes up to date.

To meet the specific needs of their homeowners' evolving lifestyles Green Mountain Builders remodel luxury homes both inside and outside, from a single kitchen remodel to an entire whole home makeover. This extensive remodel in Woodlake at Bonita Bay exemplifies the open concept. Walls were removed, opening up the kitchen and redefining the space for better flow, superior functionality, upgrading cabinets, appliances, flooring and creating a gorgeous, expansive island, with comfortable seating for six. With light, wide-plank flooring, open-concept design and large windows and sliders, this home is bathed in natural light throughout, including the master suite and master bath. The outdoor living area, including the pool and decking were updated, and provides stunning, naturally landscaped views.

Builders remodel. It includes a masterful blend of colors, textures and finishes. The kitchen also features sumptuous natural stone countertops and upgraded finishes and fixtures. Spectacular custom cabinetry, a mix of white shaker-style cabinets and natural wood cabinets to include open-glass glass fronts which feature the homeowner's prized collection. Adding large windows in the kitchen will not only enhance the beauty of the space and add additional light, but also features the lovely exterior landscaping. Glossy countertops and backsplash will reflect light that filters into the room and make the space look even brighter and bigger.

The master bathroom was completely reconfigured to include the popular wet room concept, a trending feature for upscale remodels. As open-plan living becomes increasingly popular, it's no surprise that the concept has extended to the bathroom. For homeowners seeking a serene retreat that feels like a visit to a spa, wet-room-style bathrooms are a natural fit. The transformation this bathroom went through is truly amazing. From the fantastic tile selections, flooring, beautiful dark cabinetry, custom walk-in tub and quartz countertops, this is truly day spa influenced space. The kitchen, dining room and wet bar spaces are completely open, and perfect for entertaining as guests will be free to roam from one room to another without walls to break up the space.

The master bedroom was opened up to expand the view of the lovely outdoor living space and tropical landscaping. The owner's suite also includes an open office which overlooks the pool and spa.

The outdoor living area was completely remodeled providing a resort-style ambience to the pool and sitting areas. With easy access from the interior space to the pool area, this home is ideal for holiday parties and family get-togethers.
